Academic Information

Johnson College Course Catalog

The Johnson College Course Catalog is accessible through the Johnson College website.

The catalog is a primary reference source for students, faculty, staff, and the community and will answer many, if not all, questions regarding Academics at Johnson College, including but not limited to the calendar, admissions, degree requirements, fees, regulations, and course offerings.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (Buckley Amendment)

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 provides students with certain rights regarding the educational records maintained about them by Johnson College. The law also provides that the college maintain confidentiality of student records except with respect to special cases noted in the legislation.

Students have the right to:

- Inspect their personal educational records maintained by the college
- Request amendment of inaccurate or misleading records
- Consent to disclosure of education records
- Obtain a copy of the school's FERPA policy
- File a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education

The Privacy Act exempts certain records from the individual's examination, as follows:

- Financial records of parents
- Medical or paramedical records used only for treatment purposes; the individual may have a doctor or other competent professional review these records
- Law enforcement records that are used solely for law-enforcement purposes
- Confidential letters of reference submitted prior to January 1, 1975 or letters of reference submitted after January 1, 1975 that were designated as confidential by the student at the time of their solicitation or submission

If a student wishes to inspect their educational records, they can simply visit the Registrar's office in the Professional Center in the main campus and make a request to see their files. Students may review their files in the office of the Registrar but may not remove any data from their files.

Students' Rights of Privacy and Access

Unless directed by the courts or by determination of a school official that a “need to know” situation exists, information other than “directory information” is not released without a student’s written consent. Directory information is determined to be a student’s name, address, telephone number, enrollment status, e-mail address, program of study, dates of attendance, participation in activities and sports, honors received, degrees awarded and dates of awarding.

If a student does not wish directory information to be released, a Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office within the first two weeks of a semester. Students may restrict directory information from being released without their permission; however, this also will prevent the Registrar from releasing information to the media regarding graduation or awards since that information includes the student’s address.

Johnson College assumes that failure on the part of any student to specifically request the withholding of categories of “directory information” indicates individual approval for disclosure.

Johnson College will not release grade information to a student’s parent(s) or guardian(s) without the student’s written permission; no grade information will be released over the telephone; transcripts will not be faxed or emailed.

Academic Advising

Academic advising is a collaborative process between a student and an academic advisor. Each student is assigned an academic advisor based on their program of study and are required to meet with them at least once per semester. Academic advisors promote student success by providing academic support and connecting students with campus resources that can assist them throughout their educational experience. This assistance begins once the student is enrolled in academic coursework and has completed new student orientation. Academic advisors facilitate personal growth by encouraging student responsibility, independence, and self-advocacy. A key tenet of academic advising is student responsibility for their own decisions. The student’s role is to explore academic, career, and personal goals while academic advisors provide information and guidance needed to achieve those goals. Clear responsibilities exist for each party and are detailed below.

Advisee Responsibilities

- Schedule appointments with their academic advisor each semester, coming prepared with questions pertaining to academic requirements.
- Learn how to use the course catalog and student portal to select courses that fulfill their educational plan.
- Keep a personal record of progress toward meeting graduation requirements.
- Proactively communicate questions or concerns to their academic advisor and promptly respond to outreach.
- Self-advocate and accept responsibility for their decisions.
- Ensure the recommended course sequence is followed and all program and institutional graduation requirements are met. Failure to do so may result in extending the program of study.
- Register for courses during appointed times. Refer to the Office of the Registrar section of this catalog for course registration information.

Advisor Responsibilities

- Understand and effectively communicate the curriculum, graduation requirements, and college policies through use of the course catalog and student portal.
- Monitor and document advisee degree progress and fulfillment of graduation requirements.

- Provide students with information about available resources and appropriately refer students to other institutional support services.
- Be accessible for meetings via office hours, telephone, email, or video conferencing.
- Maintain confidentiality and adhere to FERPA and institutional guidelines.

The advisor and student should discuss any current courses where the possibility of not obtaining the required grade as per program and college requirements may occur. This discussion will include, but is not limited to, changes to the student's upcoming schedule, overall implications to the student's program of study, and potential impact on the student's ability to qualify for financial aid based on Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP).

Below is an overview of the procedure students must follow to register for their courses:

- The official advising period begins in mid-October (for the upcoming spring term) and mid-March (for the upcoming fall term). It is the responsibility of the student to schedule a meeting with their academic advisor during this time to discuss the registration process.
- Registration occurs in three phases: priority registration (Student Service Members/Veterans), second-year registration (27 or more completed credits), and first-year registration (less than 27 completed credits).
- Course registration is done through the Student Portal and opens in early November (for the upcoming spring term) and early April (for the upcoming fall term). Please refer to the academic calendar for specific dates.
- Registration opens at 7:00 AM on the designated date of the student's registration period and closes at 11:59 PM on the last day of the add/drop period.
- All students must meet with their academic advisor prior to their registration period in order to be cleared for registration. Once cleared, students will be given registration access to the Student Portal, which enables them to register online for classes.
- Once the registration period begins, course registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. Therefore, it is in the best interest of the student to complete their registration as quickly as possible. It is the responsibility of the student to reach out to their academic advisor if any questions or issues arise when completing their registration.
- If a student has an outstanding balance, a Bursar hold will be placed on their record by the Student Business Office. Students with a Bursar hold will not be permitted to register until the hold is cleared by the Student Business Office.
- Students are permitted to attend only those classes for which they have officially registered and paid. It is the responsibility of students to ensure that they are following the suggested program scope and sequence while meeting all program requirements for graduation. Failure to do so may result in extending their program of study and delaying graduation.
- Johnson College reserves the right to cancel a program, course, or section; change the time of meeting; subdivide a section; or combine two or more sections as circumstances may require. Every effort is made to minimize the impact of such changes on students. The Office of the Registrar will process the changes and notify the student via their Johnson College email. Students who are involved in a change of schedule should see their academic advisor.

Attendance Policy

(In-class and Distance Education)

While each college develops its own methods for tracking class attendance and for defining conditions for excused absences, Johnson College adheres to federal regulations that require verification of class attendance for all students receiving federal financial aid and Military and Veteran Beneficiaries. These regulations dictate that a student MUST attend the classes for which they are awarded financial aid. Financial aid may be reduced or cancelled based on student attendance information.

Federal regulations require institutions to report attendance information for students who have stopped attending class or those who never attended. Students will be notified via their Johnson College email account. A student who is reported to have never attended will be assigned a grade of (N/A). A student who is reported to have stopped attending will be assigned a grade of (SA) for that class. The registrar will be notified by faculty through internal processes.

Students are responsible for understanding and adhering to the following attendance policy:

- Students are required to be present for scheduled instruction whether in a face-to-face or in a virtual environment.
- A distance education student will be considered in attendance if the student submitted at least one graded activity per week (for example, quizzes, discussions, or dropbox assignments).
- Students are required to participate in-class and online classes.

Any student missing the equivalent of two consecutive weeks of class will be issued a Stop Attend Warning and is danger of being dropped from the course.

Class meets	3x a week	2x a week	1x a week	DE
Absences allowed	6	4	2	2 weeks

Students who are dropped from the class must repeat the class in a subsequent semester in order to meet degree requirements.

Students with extenuating circumstances should contact their instructor immediately to discuss their individual situation. Possible excused absences include but may not be limited to:

- Military
- Bereavement
- Extended illness
- Participation in school function
- Jury duty

Administrative Withdrawal Appeal Procedure:

It is the philosophy of the institution that administrative withdrawal appeals will be handled informally between the student and the instructor. Only after the student has attempted to resolve the matter with the instructor, should a formal appeal be initiated. The student shall submit, in writing, to the Office of Academics evidence as to why the administrative withdrawal should be reversed. This must occur within five (5) days of being withdrawn by the instructor. The Office of Academics will review the information and notify the student of the decision within three (3) days of the receipt of the appeal. The decision of the Chief Academic Officer is final.

Final Examination Attendance:

Attendance at final examinations is mandatory. Such examinations are administered in all academic subjects at the end of each semester in accordance with the academic calendar determined by the Office of Academics.

Class Cancellation

Except in unusual circumstances, instructors are expected to conduct all classes on the days and times assigned and to teach for the full-allotted time. If the instructor does not arrive within the first 15 minutes of class time, then class is cancelled. Students should take attendance and bring it to the Office of Academics.

Weather / Emergency Cancellation

When classes are cancelled because of inclement weather or other emergencies, information can be obtained from the Johnson College website (www.johnson.edu) or by calling the main office line at 570-342-6404 and following the prompts. It is also prudent to watch the local television channels.

You also can elect to be notified by text message to your cell phone. For this service, please go to www.johnson.edu/campus-alerts, by texting “essential” to 79516 for Scranton Campus Alerts, or by texting “wework” to 79516 for Hazleton Campus Alerts.

School closings will also be posted on social media.

Online classes will not be cancelled due to inclement weather. All online coursework will retain their deadlines regardless of weather conditions. If a technological emergency results in the Desire2Learn server being down, students will be notified through an announcement on the College’s website (www.johnson.edu).

Please note, Desire2Learn is not housed on the Johnson College campus; emergencies on campus will have little to no effect on distance education courses.

Academic Probation Policy

At the end of each semester, the Office of Academics and the Office of the Registrar will review students’ term Grade Point Average (GPA) and cumulative GPA (CGPA) to determine academic status within the College. Students who earn a term GPA or CGPA <2.0 will be placed on academic probation for the following semester.

Students on academic probation must meet with their academic advisor to discuss their probation prior to the next semester to review and sign their individual Student Probation Action Plan. If needed, a meeting with the student’s Program Director will be held to further discuss the student’s academic probation. Failure to read and sign the document may result in being held from attending class the next academic term.

At the conclusion of the probation semester, the Registrar and the Advising Team will review the student’s progress and determine how to proceed based on:

- 1) academic performance
- 2) adherence to the Student Probation Action Plan

An inability to meet the minimum GPA and CGPA requirements specified above may result in academic termination.

*Health Science (PTA, RAD, & VET) probation policies can be found in programmatic handbooks.

Students who are in danger of not meeting the CGPA requirement are advised to meet first with their academic advisor, then with Financial Aid, and then with the Office of the Registrar to discuss options. Students on financial aid who fail to meet the completion rate (67% of registered courses) and GPA requirements and/or fail to complete their degree within 150% of the program timeframe may jeopardize their financial aid packages. Please refer to Unsatisfactory Academic Progress statuses in the Financial Aid section of this handbook for more information.

Academic Integrity

The faculty of Johnson College has a high regard for the integrity of the educational process; therefore, the college wishes to recognize students not only for their academic skills and dedication, but also according to a code of ethical academic behavior.

Good ethics include such principles as the following:

1. Acting at all times with integrity
2. Accepting responsibility for one's work
3. Specifying contributing members of a group, where group work is authorized
4. Naming references, where reference use is authorized
5. Submitting work which is the sole creation of the student, when neither group work nor reference use is authorized
6. Never contributing to the academic dishonesty of others

Academic dishonesty in any form will not be tolerated. Dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Cheating
2. Plagiarism
3. Submitting work which does not cite references used when working in courses where reference materials are authorized
4. Submitting work which does not cite contributing members of the group when working in courses where group work is authorized
5. Submitting work which has not been created solely by the individual seeking credit when working in courses where neither references nor group work is authorized
6. Sharing of digital work (flash drives, Google Docs, etc.)
7. Facilitating acts of academic dishonesty by others
8. Tampering with academic work of others

This will result in any or all of the following penalties:

- First Offense: An "F" for the assignment
- Second Offense: Automatic failure of the Course
- Third Offense: Referral to judicial authorities. Penalties imposed by the Office of Academics may include up to termination from the college.

Academic Termination

Johnson College makes every effort to assist students in achieving their academic goals; however, the College reserves the right to dismiss students due to poor academic performance or violation of academic code of conduct. An inability to meet the minimum CGPA requirement for two consecutive semesters will result in termination from the college.

In such cases, the Office of Academics will notify students of their dismissal by:

- Meeting with the Chief Academic Officer
- Send letter of termination

Terminated students will still be held responsible for all financial obligations.

Withdrawal from the College

Students who wish to withdraw from Johnson College must:

- Meet with an Academic Advisor.
- Students may be referred to additional departments such as the Registrar or Financial Aid.
- Complete an official withdrawal form available from the Office of the Registrar's website: <http://www.johnson.edu/registrar> or by emailing advising@johnson.edu and meeting with your advisor.

Upon official withdrawal, grades will be recorded on the transcript as "W" (Withdrew). Johnson College does not consider absence from class an official notice of withdrawal. A student who stops attending class without officially withdrawing will receive the grade earned in that course.

Medical Withdrawal Policy

In the case that a student feels the need to medically withdraw themselves from Johnson College, the student will need to provide medical documentation if planning to return to Johnson College. The student will still need to follow the Re-Admission/Re-Enrollment policy pending on when the student actually returns.

Medical documentation will be housed in the Registrar's Office separately from student files. The Registrar's Office and Counseling and Disability services will work together to maintain student medical withdrawals and ensure that all proper documentation is provided.

If the student wishes to provide medical documentation prior to withdrawing themselves from the college, the college will still accept the documentation but will still require a release from a medical professional stating that the student has been remedied, and that they are capable of resuming college studies.

Health Clearance

Johnson College may require a Health Clearance Form that must be filled out by a health care provider after a physical exam prior to the start of an academic year of any enrolled student based on the specific program the student is looking to enroll in. Programmatic inoculations may be needed. Please refer to individual program enrollment requirements in the Johnson College Catalog.

Student Grievance Procedure

Johnson College makes every effort to resolve student complaints internally, using policies and procedures. It is expected that students will fully utilize any and all such administrative procedures to address concerns and/or complaints in as timely a manner as possible. The college defines a grievance as an issue related to a perceived academic or non-academic injustice, whereby a student believes they have been dealt with arbitrarily, unfairly or in a way that violates established laws, rules, policies, by an employee of the college.

- Informal complaint: Academic or Non-Academic issue with faculty, staff, administrator, department, program or any other reason.
 - Attempt should be made to resolve issue with parties involved
 - If resolution could not be made informally, a formal grievance could be submitted
- Non-Academic Grievance: Official grievance form submitted because the student believes they were treated indiscriminately, unfairly, or in a way that violates rules, policies or procedures, and or any laws.
- Academic Grievance: Official grievance form submitted because the student feels they have been harmed by being treated indiscriminately or unfairly within the context of the course.

Informal complaint process:

Non-Academic: Initial efforts to resolve the issue with whomever the issue arose with must take place first, if possible (this does not apply to alleged sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, or discrimination). If an informal discussion with the persons involved cannot solve the complaint, a student may submit a formal grievance (form Online) no later than thirty (30) business days after the alleged incident. The designated staff/faculty member(s) will make every effort to resolve the matter and report the decision, in writing, to the complainant(s) and respond via their Johnson College email address within fourteen (14) business days after receiving the complaint.

Academic: All academic related complaints must be submitted to the instructor/faculty member involved. If an informal resolution cannot be made, the student may submit a formal grievance within thirty (30) days of the alleged issue. The designated faculty or administrative staff member will make every effort to resolve the matter and report the decision, in writing, to the complainant(s) Johnson College email address within fourteen (14) business days of receiving the complaint.

Formal Grievance:

In the event that a complaint cannot be resolved informally, the student may continue the process and submit a formal grievance by completing the Formal Grievance Form, located on the Johnson College website.

Prior to submitting a formal grievance, the complainant(s) must attempt to obtain a resolution through the information process. A formal grievance must be submitted no later than thirty (30) business days after the decision of informal resolution has been made.

Staff/Faculty who has been assigned the Formal Grievance has fourteen (14) days after receiving the grievance form to report the decision in writing to the complainant(s) email address.

Submit a formal grievance here.

Appeal

A student may appeal the decision within ten (10) business days by submitting a formal appeal in writing, along with the written decision to the Johnson College Grievance Committee, grievance@johnson.edu.

The committee will have fourteen (14) business days to review the information and notify the complainant(s) of the Committee's decision, in writing, to their Johnson College email address.

- 1) Name and contact information of complainant(s)
- 2) Detailed description of the appeal
- 3) A copy of any documents relating to the complaint, including previous decisions and supporting documents
- 4) Specific reason for the appeal
- 5) Desired outcome
- 6) Date grievance submitted

All decisions made by the Johnson College Grievance Committee are final. There is no further appeal within the Student Grievance Procedure Policy.

The college is committed to addressing student complaints timely and effectively, in accordance with student complaint/grievance procedures. If a student believes their concerns have not been sufficiently addressed, they may also file external complaints with the agencies identified below.

Financial Aid Information

Financial aid helps meet college costs, both educational (tuition and fees) and living (food, housing, and transportation) for those who qualify. Through various programs offered by state and federal governments, as well as private lenders, financial aid helps the cost of education become affordable.

Several forms of financial assistance are available to students who qualify. Participation in programs funded by state and federal agencies requires the Financial Aid Office to comply with the regulations set forth by each agency concerning student eligibility and academic progress standards. This will generally require the completion of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Responsibility for financing an education rest first with students and their families. Financial aid should be viewed as supplementary, to be used only after the full resources of students and their families are committed.

Eligibility

Each funding source has its own eligibility requirements; further information is available through the Financial Aid Office.

Students attending Johnson College who wish to be considered for Federal Title IV (Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG), Federal Work-Study, Direct Student Loan, or Direct Parent PLUS Loan) and institutional aid, in addition to meeting other eligibility criteria, must maintain satisfactory academic progress (SAP) in the course of study being pursued. The college is required to establish a SAP standard in accordance with U.S. Department of Education regulation 34 CFR 668.34. This SAP Policy is as strict as or stricter than academic policies for students who are not receiving Title IV Aid. Students' academic records will be reviewed at the end of each enrolled term (i.e., fall semester, spring semester, and summer session) after grades are calculated by the Registrar's Office. All semesters in which the student is enrolled, including summer, must be considered in the determination of SAP, even semesters for which the student did not receive federal financial aid.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Minimum Standards

SAP is measured on three standards: Completion Rate (CR), Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA), and Maximum Time Frame (MTF). Students requesting consideration for federal financial aid must demonstrate a positive forward movement toward their degree and must meet the following standards.

Certificate Programs of One Year or Less	1 to 15 credits	16 credits and greater
CR	67%	67%
CGPA	1.85	2.0
MTF	Total credits attempted cannot exceed 150% of program length.
Undergraduate Degree
MTF	Total credits attempted cannot exceed 150% of program length.

Completion Rate (CR)

Completion Rate is a quantitative measurement of your progress towards graduation. In order to complete your degree in a timely manner you must complete a certain percentage of the credits that you attempt. Attempted credits include all course credits in which the student remains enrolled past the last day of the Add/Drop period. Included in the number of attempted credits are F (fails), I (incompletes), R (repeats), and W (withdrawals). Credits transferred into Johnson College are considered attempted and earned.

To calculate CR =
$$\frac{\text{Cumulative number of credits that you have successfully completed}}{\text{Cumulative number of credits that you have attempted}} = \%$$

Examples:

Undergraduate Degree	12 earned	= 67%	Successful CR
	18 attempted
Undergraduate Degree	9 earned	= 50%	Unsuccessful CR
	18 attempted

Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)

Your CGPA is a qualitative measurement of your academic achievement. All students must maintain the minimum CGPA set forth in this policy. Credits that are not calculated into the SAP CGPA include I (incompletes), W (Withdrawals), and transfer credits.

Maximum Time Frame (MTF)

The Maximum Time Frame (MTF) cannot exceed 150% of the program length. Full-time students should earn approximately 15 credits a semester in order to stay on MTF. Developmental courses are counted as hours attempted and, if successfully completed, hours earned. Credits earned are counted toward academic progress but do not count towards a degree. Therefore, these credits will be excluded from the MTF requirement. Total credits for MTF cannot be rounded up or down. To calculate MTF multiply program length x 150%.

Examples:

Program	Program Length	MTF
Welding Certificate	30	45
Advanced Manufacturing Engineering Technology	63	94.5
Radiologic Technology	73	110

Repeat Coursework

Financial aid is available for the first repeat of any previously passed course. Financial aid is available for each attempt of a previously failed course. However, each attempt is considered into the CR and MTF.

*Audited classes are not counted into CGPA, CR or MTF.

Consecutive Enrollment

If a student fails to meet the CGPA or CR requirements for two (2) consecutive terms, whether or not they are receiving financial aid, they will be considered to have unsatisfactory academic progress (USAP). This status will result in a USAP suspension and loss of their financial aid eligibility. Students who exceed Maximum Time Frame will have USAP suspension immediately.

Change of Major

The first time a student changes their Major program of study, the courses that pertain to the previous major are not included in the SAP calculation. However, all courses that fulfill requirements for the new major are used in the SAP calculation. Subsequent changes to a student's major ARE calculated into Satisfactory Academic Progress.

Second Certificate or Degree

If a student enrolls for a second certificate or degree, after completion of a certificate or degree, the student may be eligible for an additional 150% Maximum Time Frame of financial aid for their new program of study. This will be determined based upon compliance of ALL other federal regulations.

Unsatisfactory Academic Progress (USAP)

Failure to meet satisfactory academic progress (SAP) requirements set forth by Johnson College in accordance with federal regulations result in unsatisfactory academic progress (USAP).

USAP Statuses

USAP Warning Status

You will be placed on a USAP Warning the first time you do not meet SAP standards. This means you are one enrolled term away from losing your financial aid eligibility. You still have financial aid eligibility for one enrolled term to meet SAP standards.

USAP Suspension Status

If you are placed on a Warning and, at the end of the next term you have not met the SAP standards you placed on USAP Suspension. You will not receive federal or institutional financial aid. You may appeal this status.

USAP Probation Status

If you have successfully appealed a Suspension, you will be placed on USAP Probation for one enrolled term. If you meet the SAP standards at the end of the Probation term, your SAP Status will be considered met and you will no longer be considered USAP. If you do not meet the SAP standards at the end of your Probation, you will be placed back into USAP Suspension.

USAP Academic Plan Status

If you have successfully appealed a USAP Suspension by completing the Unsatisfactory Academic Progress Appeal Form, you may be placed on an Academic Plan. You must successfully follow your SAP Academic Plan while in this status. You will be monitored by the Financial Aid Office at the end of each term. If you do not meet the criteria outlined in your SAP Academic Plan, you will be placed back into Suspension. If you are meeting the criteria outlined in your SAP Academic Plan, you will remain in this status until either the plan expires or you are meeting SAP standards.

If you meet SAP standards while on Probation or while on your SAP Academic Plan, your SAP Status will be considered met for the next term.

If you do not meet SAP standards and your SAP Academic Plan expires, you will need to submit a new USAP Appeal in order for your aid eligibility to be re-reviewed.

Reinstatement of Financial Aid eligibility

If you lose federal and institutional aid eligibility because you are not meeting the SAP Cumulative GPA or Completion Rate standards, you may regain eligibility in one of the following ways:

1. Submit an Unsatisfactory Academic Progress (USAP) Appeal Form with supporting documentation. That form provides a non-exhaustive list of circumstances for which you may appeal. You must advance toward attaining a degree and show progress within your SAP Academic plan for graduation.
2. Attend Johnson College using your own resources. You must advance toward attaining a degree and adhere to SAP Standards. You must contact our office after grades have been posted by the Registrar's Office in order for your financial aid to be reviewed for reinstatement.

If you lose federal and institutional aid eligibility because you are not meeting the SAP Timeframe standard, you must submit a USAP Appeal Form for approval in order to regain eligibility.

Once you regain eligibility, you will be awarded financial aid subject to your financial aid eligibility and the availability of funds.

PHEAA Academic Progress

Pennsylvania State Grant academic requirements are mandated by PHEAA. A student is required to successfully complete a minimum of six (6) semester credits per semester for each part-time State Grant award received and a minimum of twelve (12) credits per semester for each full-time State Grant award received. Credits earned for repeat courses which were previously counted when State Grant progress was verified cannot be counted again. Academic progress is confirmed by the financial aid administrator at your institution at the end of each award year. Failure to meet the minimum requirements means that you are ineligible for further State Grant aid until you have successfully completed the required number of credits.

The amount and type of credits that Johnson College awards follow the recommendations of the American Council on Education and the U.S. Department of Defense. These credit recommendations appear in the Military Guide Online and on military transcripts.

Most of the time, awarding academic credit benefits the student. However, in some cases, excessive credit hours may impact your ability to receive financial aid. For that reason, we recommend you speak with the Financial Aid Office.

To receive credit, you'll need to:

Request your military transcript from your service branch.

Send your military transcript to Johnson College's Registrar's office.

The Registrar's Office will determine what credits can be awarded.

Please note all students have the opportunity to take a challenge exam. For information on prior learning assessment credits, contact the Registrar's Office.*

No Request = No Certification

The Certification Process may take up to 14 days.

It takes 4-8 weeks for the VA Regional Office to process educational benefits. Payment is paid retroactively to the beginning of the semester. Exceptions Apply*

If you would like to use benefits for the Winter/Summer classes, please reach out to the School Certifying Official about steps to follow.

Changes in Enrollment/Student Status

All students receiving VA education benefits are required to inform the School Certifying Official of ALL of the following changes:

- Class Withdrawals
- Add/Drops
- School Withdrawal
- Address Change
- Program Change

*Changes must be reported immediately after completing the add/drop procedure. Adding or dropping classes and withdrawals are not official until they have been processed by the Academic Advising office and the Registrar. Report changes using the VA Certification request form on the Student Portal.

All students receiving VA education benefits are required to maintain satisfactory academic progress according to published standards established and enforced by Johnson College.

Note: Any change in student status may result in a balance on your student account.

Effective January 5, 2021, the Isakson and Roe Act requires schools and training programs to send back any over payment of education-related benefits paid directly to an educational institution.

If a debt is created for a withdraw or non-attendance, Johnson College will be required to return some or all tuition and fees paid by the VA. This action will create a balance due on student accounts.

Balances due may hinder students from registering for upcoming semesters, or receive a grade, diploma, or transcripts.

Tuition Assistance and VA Benefits

Students who want to use Tuition Assistance must let the School Certifying Official know the process of application. Once you receive your TA Authorization form. Please provide a copy to the School Certifying Official.

Financial Aid

Veterans and Dependents are encouraged to apply for federal and state financial aid opportunities. However, if you would like to deny loans, you must email both the Financial Aid Department (financialaid@johnson.edu) and the School Certifying Official.

By law, the GI Bill does not decrease eligibility for Federal Title IV Aid (grants and loans provided by the US Dept of Education).

Academic Progress

A student on Academic probation status will be disqualified from Certification when their GPA falls below 2.0 the following semester. Johnson College is required to notify the Department of Veterans Affairs (DVA) of this status. The DVA will terminate benefits unless it can be shown that the student is pursuing an appropriate objective and has a reasonable chance for success in their program.

Military Leave

Leave requests are processed in consultation with the student's academic advisor and the Registrar's office. All students are required to contact Financial Aid and Student Billing before leaving to ensure sound financial standing and avoid barriers to re-enrollment.

Career Services

Johnson College's Career Services department works to support current students in their entire educational experience in a variety of ways to develop the skills necessary for success, and if applicable, their real-world internship experience. The department works to inform students and alumni of current job openings, posting to social media LinkedIn and updating job boards at both the Scranton and Hazleton campuses.

Résumé workshops, in-class visits, and one-on-one student meetings prepare students for the job application process. The "Career Readiness Guide", created by Career Services, includes step-by-step instructions for creating cover letters, résumés, and job-related emails. Career counseling, introductory speeches and mock-interviews are also offered to help students prepare for employment.

Class tours and industry field trips allow the opportunity for students and industry partners to engage in conversations about internship and employment opportunities. During the spring and fall semester, the department hosts an annual career fair. This event is exclusive to Johnson College students and alumni, providing students with an opportunity to meet with representatives of many employers, as Johnson College offers opportunities for career assistance for life.

Community Hub

The Community Hub is located within the Moffat Student Center. Here, students can meet with Johnson College staff or partner agency representatives to discuss available resources within the community.

These resources can help alleviate barriers students may be facing such as transportation, child care, food insecurity, housing, and more. This office can also connect a student to any special programs on or off campus such as RISE and Parent Pathways of NEPA.

In some cases, the Community Hub may decide that a student's needs would be best met through an off-campus community agency. Referrals to off-campus agencies may be made if a student's needs exceed the resources that we provide on campus.

Counseling and Disabilities Department

Counseling Services

The mission of Counseling Services at Johnson College is to assist students who may be experiencing social, personal, or academic challenges. Counseling Services offers individual sessions to students as well as psychoeducational programming and outreach. Group sessions may be planned as needed. Faculty or staff members may refer students to the Counseling Services or students may self-refer. Students may schedule appointments or just “drop by” as the need dictates. All supportive services on campus are free and confidential. In some cases, the Counselor may decide that a student’s needs would be best met through a community agency. Referrals to off-campus counseling/agencies may be made if a student’s needs exceed the supportive services that we provide on campus.

Disability Services

The mission of Disability Services at Johnson College is to provide equal access opportunities, including the establishment and coordination of appropriate accommodations, auxiliary aids and programs to qualified students in accordance with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 as amended by the ADA Amendments Act of 2008. The office exercises a reasonably good faith effort to coordinate accommodations designed to enable students with permanent or temporary disabilities to maximize their educational potential. Students must contact the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services to find out what documentation may be required to substantiate the need for accommodations and to find out how to request these services. Please refer to the Disability Services Policy section of the Student Handbook for additional information or contact the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services by phone at (570) 702-8956.

Deaf / Hard of Hearing

Students requesting a Sign Language Interpreter should contact the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services as soon as they are accepted to the college. Policies for students utilizing Sign Language Interpreting Services can be found in the Student Handbook (pg. 30). Any questions can be directed to the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services at (570) 702-8956.

Disabilities Policies

Johnson College provides equal opportunities to students with disabilities admitted through the college’s regular admission process. The college recognizes that students with disabilities have a legal right and a responsibility to present to the college requests for reasonable accommodation.

Students seeking accommodations should contact Disability Services staff as early as possible in the admissions process. Disability Services reserves the right to ask for any appropriate documentation of disability to determine a student’s eligibility for accommodations. Appropriate documentation would provide information about the functional limitations imposed by the disability and recommendations for specific accommodations.

The Laws

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) prohibits discrimination against individuals with disabilities. An individual with a disability is a person who:

- has a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities (including walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, and working);
- has a record of such an impairment; or
- is regarded as having such an impairment.

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 defines a handicapped person as any individual who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities. Section 504 states:

“No otherwise qualified individual in the United States, shall solely by reason of his / her handicap, be excluded from the participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.” (PL 93-112, 2973)

The ADA Amendments Act of 2008 includes several significant changes, which also apply to Section 504:
The definition of “major life activities” was expanded to include reading, concentrating, and thinking.
The definition of “major bodily functions” has been expanded to include neurological and brain functions.

In the post-secondary environment, colleges and universities are responsible for providing equal access to students who meet the above definition of a disability and for protecting them from discrimination. College and universities are NOT responsible for identifying or evaluating students. The goal of accommodation is to ensure equal access and to “level the playing field” versus a guarantee of academic success.

Reasonable Accommodation

A reasonable accommodation is a modification or adjustment to a course, program, service, activity or facility that enables a student with a disability to have an equal opportunity to receive information and demonstrate knowledge. Reasonable accommodations are determined on an individual basis and are based on the nature of the disability. Accommodations cannot require a fundamental alteration of any essential aspects of the program.

Students are encouraged to request accommodations prior to the first day of instruction. However, students have the right to request services at any time during their enrollment. It is always a student's right, and personal choice, to determine if they choose to disclose their disability to Disability Services. Disclosing your disability can be done at any point in the semester, and does not require that accommodations be used. Accommodations cannot be given retroactively if a student makes the choice not to disclose their disability to Disability Services. Alternatively, if a student does disclose their disability, but does not give the accommodation plan to their instructor or request that the plan be sent to their instructor, accommodations will not be granted.

Disability Services cannot provide accommodations retroactively if a student does not disclose their disability to them or request that the accommodation plan be sent, even if the student believes the work submitted or exam scores received do not accurately reflect their abilities.

Procedures for requesting accommodation/ self-advocacy

Whereas in high school, accommodations were initiated by the school district, this is not the case in college. The student becomes responsible for seeking out the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services, providing documentation when needed, discussing accommodation strategies, and requesting the use of those accommodations in the classroom. At the college level, students must learn to advocate for themselves in order to receive appropriate accommodations.

To receive accommodations, students must first self-disclose their disability to the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services and then request reasonable and appropriate accommodations. Documentation from a licensed clinician/physician/psychologist will be requested if the functional impact of the disability is not clear. An ADA/Section 504 Accommodation Plan, unique to each student, will be created with the input of the student and the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services.

Students must then present their requests for accommodation to each of their faculty members. They must describe the way in which they learn best and request the needed accommodation. It is highly recommended that students complete this process within the first few days of each new semester and not wait until the accommodation is necessary.

Students should convey to their faculty an eagerness to learn and do well in the class. They should meet frequently with the faculty to discuss successes (and failures) if necessary.

If, after meeting with faculty, students feel that they are not receiving the course accommodation specified in their ADA/Section 504 Accommodation Plan, they should immediately contact the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services.

Students can expect that the agreed upon accommodations may differ from class to class depending on the subject matter, the relevancy to the degree desired, and the documentation submitted. Johnson College acknowledges that all students have differing strengths and weaknesses and that because of this, accommodations may differ from one student to another, even when they share the same disability. In reviewing a student's disability-related documentation, the primary consideration is an understanding of how the disability impacts the demands or requirements of each course and/or program. Curricular modifications can be made only if they do not substantially alter content or requirements essential to the program of study.

It is important that students understand their disability and its impact upon their learning/testing, and be able to advocate for themselves. Students should know how to describe their disability, know in what way(s) their disability will affect their learning/testing/participation, and be aware of what they need to help them to succeed at the college level. Appropriate documentation will be requested to support all of this, and the accommodation requested must be consistent with the information contained in the documentation.

Reasonable accommodations often include the following: extended time for test-taking; a distraction-reduced environment for testing; use of auxiliary equipment (spellcheckers, audio recorders, calculators, word processors); modified exam formats and/or oral exams; peer tutoring for re-teaching or understanding concepts; and the use of note takers/copies of lecture notes.

Documentation Requirements

Students seeking accommodation should present to the Associate Director of Counseling and Disability Services documentation from a licensed professional which includes a statement as to how the disability substantially interferes with the student's educational progress, functional limitations, recommendations for appropriate accommodation, and supports needed for the academic environment. If a student does not have appropriate documentation from a licensed professional or documentation that states the required recommendations in the classroom, an accommodation plan will not be able to be implemented until this information is provided.

Students Utilizing Sign Language Interpreting Services

Confidentiality: Sign Language interpreters are expected to conduct themselves in a manner consistent with the professional standards set by the Registry of Interpreters of the Deaf (RID) Code of Professional Conduct – Tenet 1.0: Interpreters adhere to standards of confidential communication.

Illustrative behaviors 1.1 states, “Share assignment-related information only on a confidential and ‘as-needed basis’ (e.g., supervisors, interpreter team members, members of the educational team, hiring entities).” Interpreters may at times need to share classroom accommodation related issues with other campus staff on a “need to know” basis. On a regular basis, the Disabilities Office staff uses a team approach in the collaboration and sharing of work-related information. As a result, there will be times when interpreters share typically confidential information about students and work experiences/challenges for the purpose of improving the quality of Johnson College's Disability Services.

First day of class: The first day of class, plan to arrive a few minutes early and introduce yourself to the interpreter. The interpreter will be looking for you in the first row of the classroom or at the entrance of the classroom. Be sure your seat in each classroom is right for you. It is important that you have a direct line of vision to the instructor, the board or screen, and the interpreter.

1. Interpreter wait time: If you are late, the interpreter will wait 10 minutes for a 50-minute class and 15 minutes for classes longer than an hour. If you do not arrive to your class within these timelines, the interpreter will leave.
2. Interpreter no show: Contact the Disabilities Office if the interpreter does not show-up for class. As a last resort, an audiocassette tape recorder is available from the Disabilities Office to tape the lecture and arrangements can be made for the audiocassette to be transcribed for you as soon as possible.
3. Communication with your interpreter: Communicate with your interpreter. If you have problems understanding signs used or any other concerns, discuss the concerns with the interpreter. On the first day of class or early in the semester, let the interpreter know if you will be voicing for yourself or prefer him/her to voice for you. Let the interpreter know your sign preference (ASL, PSE, SE), seating preference and/or concerns you are having that affect your ability to understand the interpreter. If your concerns are not resolved after talking with the interpreter, address your concerns with the Manager of Disabilities.
4. Questions about class information: If you have questions about class information, ask the instructor. The interpreter can assist by voicing your question(s) to the instructor. It can be very beneficial to meet with the instructor outside of class time, either during the instructor's office hours or by making an appointment with the instructor. If you want to talk with the instructor or teaching assistant immediately preceding or following class, it is your responsibility to ask the interpreter if he/she can arrive before or stay after class for this purpose.
5. Request for interpreters: If you need an interpreter for any other meeting (such as meeting during an instructor's office hours), lecture, or class related activity, it is imperative that you provide a written request to the Disabilities Office so that an interpreter can be secured.
6. Schedule changes: The Disabilities Office needs a copy of your class schedule and accommodation requests to arrange interpreters. If you need to make a schedule change, please discuss your options with the Manager of Disabilities before making the change to ensure the availability of a service provider.
7. Academic Advisor: It is your academic responsibility to establish an on-going relationship with your academic advisor. This should be done during your first semester at the college so that you will have access to information for appropriate course selection during your academic career. If you need an interpreter to meet with your advisor, plan ahead; and submit a written request for an interpreter to the Disabilities Office.
8. Course syllabus: It is your responsibility to secure a syllabus (an outline of the main subjects covered throughout the semester) for each class and use it to plan for your assigned readings, exams, presentations, and final exam dates.
9. Transportation Policy: Some course assignments may be held off-campus. Students are responsible for arranging their own transportation to and from the off-campus site. Disabilities Office staff and interpreters do not provide transportation for Deaf and Hard of Hearing students to or from campus or other sites. This applies to internships, field placements, group meetings, courses and other placements that may occur off-campus.
10. Internship Policy: Students may be involved with internships or field work placements as part of their academic program. Johnson College considers internships and field work placements in the same light as regularly scheduled courses. All of the responsibilities and policies regarding use of services (i.e., interpreting) remain in effect for all students who earn course credit in field placement and internship programs. These responsibilities are outlined in the No-Show Policy and Responsibility Policies.

- 11. Appeal process: For students who are denied support services, (i.e. student requests a classroom interpreter, however, based on previous support services, degree of hearing loss and other pertinent information, this request is denied) an appeal process can be initiated. An appeal form is included in the Johnson College Student Handbook that is located online on the Johnson College website. Specific information about the appeal process is available through the Student Support Services Office.
- 12. Questions: The Disability Service Office is here as your ally. If you have any special needs or concerns, please direct them to the Counselor/Manager of Disabilities.

“No Show” Policy for Deaf/Hard of Hearing Students Utilizing Sign Language Interpreting Services

Because interpreting services are costly services, it is very important that students assist the Student Support Services Office in using these services wisely. When the Student Support Services Office knows in advance that a student using interpreting services will not be attending a class, the office is often able to reassign or notify the interpreter that their services will not be required.

After the SECOND “No Show/No Call” per class/per semester by a student utilizing interpreting services, the interpreting services will be suspended for that class. It is the student’s responsibility to arrange a meeting with the Disability Services Coordinator to discuss the situation. After this meeting, interpreting services for that class will resume.

After the THIRD “No Show/No Call” per class/per semester by a student utilizing interpreting services, the interpreting services will be cancelled for that class. It is the student’s responsibility to arrange a meeting with the Disability Services Coordinator to discuss the status of interpreting services. After this meeting, services may or may not be reinstated, depending on the availability of interpreters.

Interpreters will report student “no shows/no calls” to the Disability Services Coordinator in accordance with the policy stated above.

The student is responsible to notify the Disability Services Coordinator of their absence even if there is more than one Deaf/Hard of Hearing student in the same class.

It is important that students using interpreting services email the Disability Services Coordinator no later than one hour before the start of class. Two days’ notice is preferable when possible.

Rationale for Policy

Johnson College is committed to providing a workplace and educational environment, as well as other benefits, programs, and activities, that are free from discrimination and sexual harassment and retaliation. To ensure compliance with federal, state, and local civil rights laws and regulations, and to affirm its commitment to promoting the goals of fairness and equity in all aspects of the educational program or activity, Johnson College has developed internal policies and procedures that provide a prompt, fair, and impartial process for those involved in an allegation sexual harassment or retaliation. Johnson College values and upholds the equal dignity of all members of its community and strives to balance the rights of the parties in the grievance process during what is often a difficult time for all those involved. 4 ©ATIXA.

Applicable Scope

The core purpose of this policy is the prohibition of sexual harassment and retaliation. When an alleged violation of this policy is reported, the allegations are subject to resolution using Johnson College's "Process A" or "Process B," as determined by the Title IX Coordinator, and as detailed below.

When the Respondent is a member of the Johnson College community, a formal complaint may be filed and a grievance process may be available regardless of the status of the Complainant, who may or may not be a member of the Johnson College community. This community includes, but is not limited to, students, student organizations, faculty, administrators, staff, and third parties such as [guests, visitors, volunteers, vendors, contractors, invitees, and campers].

For the purpose of this policy, Johnson College defines "student" as any individual who has accepted an offer of admission, or who is registered or enrolled for credit or non-credit bearing coursework, and who maintains an ongoing relationship with Johnson College.

The procedures below may be applied to incidents, to patterns, and/or to the campus climate, all of which may be addressed and investigated in accordance with this policy.

Title IX Coordinator

The Vice President of Human Resources and Senior Advisor to the President & CEO serves as the Title IX Coordinator and oversees implementation of this policy. The Title IX Coordinator has the primary responsibility for coordinating Johnson College's efforts related to the intake, investigation, resolution, and implementation of supportive measures to stop, remedy, and prevent sexual harassment, and retaliation prohibited under this policy. All parties will be provided with a comprehensive [electronic] brochure detailing options and resources, which the Title IX Coordinator may also review in person with the parties, as appropriate.

Administrative Contact Information

Complaints or notice of alleged policy violations, or inquiries about or concerns regarding this policy and procedures, may be made internally to:

Notice/Complaints of Sexual Harassment and/or Retaliation

Notice or complaints of sexual harassment and/or retaliation may be made using any of the following options:

- 1) File a complaint with, or give verbal notice to, the Title IX Coordinator or an Official with Authority (see above). Such a report may be made at any time (including during non-business hours) by using the telephone number or email address, or by mail to the office address, listed for the Title IX Coordinator or any other official listed.
- 2) Report online, using the reporting form posted at <http://johnson.edu/anonymous-reporting-form/>. This form can be used for reports in which the reporting party wants to share their identity or remain anonymous. Anonymous reports are accepted but can give rise to a need to investigate to determine if the parties can be identified. If not, no further formal action is taken, though measures intended to protect the community may be enacted. Johnson College tries to provide supportive measures to all Complainants, which may be impossible with an anonymous report that does not identify the Complainant. Because reporting carries no obligation to initiate a formal response, and because Johnson College respects Complainant requests to dismiss complaints unless there is a compelling threat to health and/or safety, the Complainant is largely in control and should not fear a loss of confidentiality by making a report that allows Johnson College to discuss and/or provide supportive measures.

3) Pick up a form: Human Resources: Ideal Saldi Hall; 570-702-8906 (Emergency 570-702-8989)

A Formal Complaint means a document submitted or signed by the Complainant or signed by the Title IX Coordinator alleging a policy violation by a Respondent and requesting that Johnson College investigate the allegation(s).

A complaint may be filed with the Title IX Coordinator in person, by mail, or by electronic mail, by using the contact information in the section immediately above, or as described in this section. As used in this paragraph, the phrase “document filed by a Complainant” means a document or electronic submission (such as by electronic mail or through an online portal provided for this purpose by Johnson College) that contains the Complainant’s physical or digital signature, or otherwise indicates that the Complainant is the person filing the complaint, and requests that Johnson College investigate the allegations.

If notice is submitted in a form that does not meet this standard, the Title IX Coordinator will contact the Complainant to ensure that it is filed correctly.

Supportive Measures

Johnson College will offer and implement appropriate and reasonable supportive measures to the parties upon notice of alleged sexual harassment and/or retaliation.

Supportive measures are non-disciplinary, non-punitive individualized services offered as appropriate and as reasonably available. They are offered without fee or charge to the parties to restore or preserve access to Johnson College’s education program or activity, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties and/or Johnson College’s educational environment, and/or to deter sexual harassment and/or retaliation.

The Title IX Coordinator promptly makes supportive measures available to the parties upon receiving notice or a complaint. At the time that supportive measures are offered, Johnson College will inform the Complainant, in writing, that they may file a formal complaint with Johnson College either at that time or in the future, if they have not done so already.

The Title IX Coordinator works with the Complainant to ensure that their wishes are considered with respect to the supportive measures that are planned and implemented.

Johnson College will maintain the confidentiality of the supportive measures, provided that confidentiality does not impair Johnson College’s ability to provide those supportive measures. Johnson College will act to ensure as minimal an academic/occupational impact on the parties as possible.

Johnson College will implement measures in a way that does not unreasonably burden the other party.

These actions may include, but are not limited to:

- Referral to counseling, medical, and/or other healthcare services
- Referral to community-based service providers
- Student financial aid counseling
- Education to the institutional community or community subgroup(s)
- Altering work arrangements for employees or student-employees
- Safety planning

- Providing campus safety escorts
- Implementing contact limitations (no contact orders) between the parties
- Academic support, extensions of deadlines, or other course/program-related adjustments
- Trespass, Persona Non Grata (PNG), or Be-On-the-Lookout (BOLO) orders
- Timely warnings
- Class schedule modifications, withdrawals, or leaves of absence
- Increased security and monitoring of certain areas of the campus
- Any other actions deemed appropriate by the Title IX Coordinator

Violations of no contact orders or other restrictions will be referred to appropriate student or employee conduct processes for enforcement.

Emergency Removal

Johnson College can act to remove a student Respondent entirely or partially from its education program or activities on an emergency basis when an individualized safety and risk analysis has determined that an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student or other individual justifies removal.

This risk analysis is performed by the Title IX Coordinator in consultation with appropriate other college officials and using objective violence risk assessment procedures.

In all cases in which an emergency removal is imposed, the student will be given notice of the action and the option to request to meet with the Title IX Coordinator prior to such action/removal being imposed, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to show cause why the action/removal should not be implemented or should be modified.

This meeting is not a hearing on the merits of the allegation(s), but rather is an administrative process intended to determine solely whether the emergency removal is appropriate.

When this meeting is not requested in a timely manner, objections to the emergency removal will be deemed waived. A Complainant and their Advisor may be permitted to participate in this meeting if the Title IX Coordinator determines it is equitable to do so.

This section also applies to any restrictions that a coach or athletic administrator may place on a student-athlete arising from allegations related to Title IX. There is no appeal process for emergency removal decisions.

A Respondent may be accompanied by an Advisor of their choice when meeting with Title IX Coordinator for the show cause meeting. The Respondent will be given access to a written summary of the basis for the emergency removal prior to the meeting to allow for adequate preparation.

The Title IX Coordinator has sole discretion under this policy to implement or stay an emergency removal and to determine the conditions and duration. Violation of an emergency removal under this policy will be grounds for discipline within the student or employee conduct processes, which may include expulsion or termination.

Johnson College will implement the least restrictive emergency actions possible in light of the circumstances and safety concerns. As determined by the Title IX Coordinator, these actions could include, but are not limited to: temporarily re-assigning an employee, restricting a student's or employee's access to or use of facilities or equipment, allowing a student to withdraw or take grades of incomplete without financial penalty, authorizing an administrative leave, and suspending a student's participation in extracurricular activities, student employment, student organizational leadership, or intercollegiate/intramural athletics.

At the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, alternative coursework options may be pursued to ensure as minimal an academic impact as possible on the parties.

Promptness

All allegations are acted upon promptly by Johnson College once it has received notice or a formal complaint. Complaints can take 60-90 business days to resolve, typically. There are always exceptions and extenuating circumstances that can cause a resolution to take longer, but Johnson College will avoid all undue delays within its control.

Any time the general timeframes for resolution outlined in Johnson College procedures will be delayed, Johnson College will provide written notice to the parties of the delay, the cause of the delay, and an estimate of the anticipated additional time that will be needed as a result of the delay.

Confidentiality/Privacy

Every effort is made by Johnson College to preserve the confidentiality of reports. Johnson College will not share the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of harassment or retaliation; any Complainant; any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sexual harassment or retaliation; any Respondent, or any witness, except as permitted by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C. 1232g; FERPA regulations, 34 CFR part 99; or as required by law; or to carry out the purposes of 34 CFR Part 106, including the conducting of any investigation, hearing, or grievance proceeding arising under these policies and procedures.

Johnson College reserves the right to determine which Johnson College officials have a legitimate educational interest in being informed about incidents that fall within this policy, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Information will be shared as necessary with Investigators, Hearing Panel members/Decision-makers, witnesses, and the parties. The circle of people with this knowledge will be kept as tight as possible to preserve the parties' rights and privacy.

Johnson College may contact parents/guardians of students to inform them of situations in which there is a significant and articulable health and/or safety risk but will usually consult with the student first before doing so.

Confidentiality and mandated reporting are addressed more specifically below.

Jurisdiction of Johnson College

This Policy applies to the education program and activities of Johnson College, to conduct that takes place on the campus or on property owned or controlled by Johnson College, at Johnson College -sponsored events, and in buildings owned or controlled by Johnson College's recognized student organizations. The Respondent must be a member of Johnson College's community in order for this Policy to apply.

This Policy can also be applicable to the effects of off-campus misconduct that effectively deprive a person of access to Johnson College's educational program. Johnson College may also extend jurisdiction to off-campus and/or to online conduct when the Title IX Coordinator determines that the conduct affects a substantial Johnson College interest.

Regardless of where the conduct occurred, Johnson College will address notice/complaints to determine whether the conduct occurred in the context of its employment or educational program or activity and/or has continuing effects on campus or in an off-campus sponsored program or activity. A substantial Johnson College interest includes:

- a. Any action that constitutes a criminal offense as defined by law. This includes, but is not limited to, single or repeat violations of any local, state, or federal law;

- b. Any situation in which it is determined that the Respondent poses an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any student, employee, or other individual;
- c. Any situation that significantly impinges upon the rights, property, or achievements of oneself or others, or significantly breaches the peace, and/or causes social disorder; and/or
- d. Any situation that substantially interferes with the educational interests or mission of Johnson College.

If the Respondent is unknown or is not a member of Johnson College community, the Title IX Coordinator will assist the Complainant in identifying appropriate campus and local resources and support options. If criminal conduct is alleged, Johnson College can assist in contacting local or campus law enforcement if the individual would like to file a police report.

Further, even when the Respondent is not a member of Johnson College's community, supportive measures, remedies, and resources may be provided to the Complainant by contacting the Title IX Coordinator. In addition, Johnson College may take other actions as appropriate to protect the Complainant against third parties, such as barring individuals from Johnson College property and/or events. All vendors serving Johnson College through third-party contracts are subject to the policies and procedures of their employers. When the Respondent is enrolled in or employed by another institution, the Title IX Coordinator can assist the Complainant in liaising with the appropriate individual at that institution, as it may be possible to allege violations through that institution's policies.

Similarly, the Title IX Coordinator may be able to assist and support a student or employee Complainant who experiences sexual harassment or retaliation in an externship, study abroad program, or other environment external to Johnson College where sexual harassment policies and procedures of the facilitating or host organization may give recourse to the Complainant.

Time Limits on Reporting

There is no time limitation on providing notice/complaints to the Title IX Coordinator. However, if the Respondent is no longer subject to Johnson College's jurisdiction and/or significant time has passed, the ability to investigate, respond, and/or provide remedies may be more limited or impossible.

Acting on notice/complaints significantly impacted by the passage of time (including, but not limited to, the rescission or revision of policy) is at the discretion of the Title IX Coordinator, who may document allegations for future reference, offer supportive measures and/or remedies, and/or engage in informal or formal action, as appropriate.

When notice/complaint is affected by significant time delay, Johnson College will typically apply the policy in place at the time of the alleged misconduct and the procedures in place at the time of notice/complaint. Typically, this Policy is only applied to incidents that occurred after August 14, 2020. For incidents that occurred prior to August 14, 2020, previous versions of this Policy will apply. Those versions are available from the Title IX Coordinator.

Online Sexual Harassment and/or Retaliation

The policies of Johnson College are written and interpreted broadly to include online manifestations of any of the behaviors prohibited below, when those behaviors occur in or have an effect on Johnson College's education program and activities or when they involve the use of Johnson College networks, technology, or equipment.

Although Johnson College may not control websites, social media, and other venues through which harassing communications are made, when such communications are reported to Johnson College, it will engage in a variety of means to address and mitigate the effects.

Members of the community are encouraged to be good digital citizens and to refrain from online misconduct, such as feeding anonymous gossip sites, sharing inappropriate content via social media, unwelcome sexual or sex-based messaging, distributing or threatening to distribute revenge pornography, breaches of privacy, or otherwise using the ease of transmission and/or anonymity of the Internet or other technology to harm another member of Johnson College community.

Policy on Nondiscrimination

Johnson College does not discriminate with regard to race, color, creed, age, national or ethnic origin, religion, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, including a transgender identity, genetics, veteran status, or ancestry in the administration of its educational and admissions policies, scholarship, loan, athletic and other school administered programs, or employment practices in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, or any other legally protected category. For information regarding civil rights and grievance procedures, contact the Title IX Coordinator of Johnson College, 3427 North Main Avenue, Scranton, PA 18508; (570) 702-8944.

Retaliation

Protected activity under this Policy includes reporting an incident that may implicate this policy, participating in the grievance process, supporting a Complainant or Respondent, assisting in providing information relevant to an investigation, and/or acting in good faith to oppose conduct that constitutes a violation of this Policy.

Acts of alleged retaliation should be reported immediately to the Title IX Coordinator and will be promptly investigated. Johnson College will take all appropriate and available steps to protect individuals who fear that they may be subjected to retaliation.

Johnson College and any member of Johnson College's community are prohibited from taking materially adverse action by intimidating, threatening, coercing, harassing, or discriminating against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by law or policy, or because the individual has made a report or complaint, testified, assisted, or participated or refused to participate in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing under this Policy and procedure.

Filing a complaint within Process B could be considered retaliatory if those charges could be applicable under Process A, when the Process B charges are made for the purpose of interfering with or circumventing any right or privilege provided afforded within Process A that is not provided by Process B. Therefore, Johnson College vets all complaints carefully to ensure this does not happen, and to ensure that complaints are routed to the appropriate process.

The exercise of rights protected under the First Amendment does not constitute retaliation.

Charging an individual with a code of conduct violation for making a materially false statement in bad faith in the course of a grievance proceeding under this policy and procedure does not constitute retaliation, provided that the determination of responsibility, alone, is not sufficient to conclude that any party has made a materially false statement in bad faith.

When a Complainant Does Not Wish to Proceed

If a Complainant does not wish for their name to be shared, does not wish for an investigation to take place, and/or does not want a formal complaint to be pursued, they may make such a request to the Title IX Coordinator, who will evaluate that request in light of the duty to ensure the safety of the campus and to comply with state or federal law.

The Title IX Coordinator has ultimate discretion over whether Johnson College proceeds when the Complainant does not wish to do so, and the Title IX Coordinator may sign a formal complaint to initiate a grievance process. The Title IX Coordinator's decision should be based on results of the violence risk assessment that show a compelling risk to health and/or safety that requires Johnson College to pursue formal action to protect the community. A compelling risk to health and/or safety may result from evidence of patterns of misconduct, predatory conduct, threats, abuse of minors, use of weapons, and/or violence. Johnson College may be compelled to act on alleged employee misconduct irrespective of a Complainant's wishes.

The Title IX Coordinator must also consider the effect that non-participation by the Complainant may have on the availability of evidence and Johnson College's ability to pursue a Title IX Grievance Process fairly and effectively.

When the Title IX Coordinator executes the written complaint, they do not become the Complainant. The Complainant is the individual who is alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute a violation of this Policy.

When Johnson College proceeds, the Complainant (or their Advisor) may have as much or as little involvement in the process as they wish. The Complainant retains all rights of a Complainant under this Policy irrespective of their level of participation. Typically, when the Complainant chooses not to participate, the Advisor may be appointed as proxy for the Complainant throughout the process, acting to ensure and protect the rights of the Complainant, though this does not extend to the provision of evidence or testimony.

Note that Johnson College's ability to remedy and respond to notice may be limited if the Complainant does not want Johnson College to proceed with an investigation and/or grievance process. The goal is to provide the Complainant with as much control over the process as possible, while balancing Johnson College's obligation to protect its community.

In cases in which the Complainant requests confidentiality/no formal action and the circumstances allow Johnson College to honor that request, Johnson College may offer informal resolution options (see below), supportive measures, and remedies to the Complainant and the community, but will not otherwise pursue formal action.

If the Complainant elects to take no action, they can change that decision if they decide to pursue a formal complaint at a later date. Upon making a formal complaint, a Complainant has the right, and can expect, to have allegations taken seriously by Johnson College, and to have the incidents investigated and properly resolved through these procedures. Please consider that delays may cause limitations on access to evidence, or present issues with respect to the status of the parties.

Federal Timely Warning Obligations

Parties reporting sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking should be aware that under the Clery Act, Johnson College must issue timely warnings for reported incidents that pose a serious or continuing threat of bodily harm or danger to members of the campus community.

Johnson College will ensure that a Complainant's name and other identifying information is not disclosed, while still providing enough information for community members to make safety decisions in light of the potential danger.

False Allegations and Evidence

Deliberately false and/or malicious accusations under this Policy are a serious offense and will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action. This does not include allegations that are made in good faith but are ultimately shown to be erroneous or do not result in a policy violation determination.

Additionally, witnesses and parties knowingly providing false evidence, tampering with or destroying evidence, or deliberately misleading an official conducting an investigation can be subject to discipline under appropriate Johnson College policies.

Amnesty for Complainants and Witnesses

Johnson College community encourages the reporting of misconduct and crimes by Complainants and witnesses. Sometimes, Complainants or witnesses are hesitant to report to Johnson College officials or participate in grievance processes because they fear that they themselves may be in violation of certain policies, such as underage drinking or use of illicit drugs at the time of the incident.

Respondents may hesitate to be forthcoming during the process for the same reasons.

It is in the best interests of Johnson College community that Complainants choose to report misconduct to Johnson College officials, that witnesses come forward to share what they know, and that all parties be forthcoming during the process.

To encourage reporting and participation in the process, Johnson College maintains a policy of offering parties and witnesses amnesty from minor policy violations – such as underage consumption of alcohol or the use of illicit drugs – related to the incident.

Amnesty does not apply to more serious allegations such as physical abuse of another or illicit drug distribution. The decision not to offer amnesty is based on neither sex nor gender, but on the fact that collateral misconduct is typically addressed for all students within a progressive discipline system, and the rationale for amnesty – the incentive to report serious misconduct – is rarely applicable to Respondent with respect to a Complainant.

Sometimes, students are hesitant to assist others for fear that they may get in trouble themselves (for example, an underage student who has been drinking or using marijuana might hesitate to help an individual who has experienced sexual assault). Johnson College maintains a policy of amnesty for students who offer help to others in need. Although policy violations cannot be overlooked, Johnson College may provide purely educational options with no official disciplinary finding, rather than punitive sanctions, to those who offer their assistance to others in need.

Federal Statistical Reporting Obligations

Certain campus officials – those deemed Campus Security Authorities – have a duty to report the following for federal statistical reporting purposes (Clery Act):

- a) All “primary crimes,” which include homicide, sexual assault, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, motor vehicle theft, and arson;
- b) Hate crimes, which include any bias-motivated primary crime as well as any bias motivated larceny or theft, simple assault, intimidation, or destruction/damage/vandalism of property;
- c) VAWA-based crimes,¹¹ which include sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking; and
- d) Arrests and referrals for disciplinary action for weapons-related law violations, liquor-related law violations, and drug abuse-related law violations.

All personally identifiable information is kept private, but statistical information must be shared with the Title IX Coordinator regarding the type of incident and its general location (on or off-campus or in the surrounding area, but no addresses are given) for publication in the Annual Security Report and daily campus crime log.

Campus Security Authorities include: student affairs/student conduct staff, campus security, student engagement staff, human resources staff, advisors to student organizations, and any other official with significant responsibility for student and campus activities.

General Statement

As a part of the physical and social learning infrastructure, Johnson College acquires, develops, and maintains computers, computer systems, and data/communications networks. These resources are intended for college-related purposes, including direct and indirect support of the college's instruction, research, and service missions; of college administrative functions; of student and campus life activities; and of the free exchange of ideas among members of the community and the wider local, national, and world communities.

The rights of academic freedom and freedom of expression apply to the use of college technology resources. So, too, however, do the responsibilities and limitations associated with those rights. Technology resources like the use of any other college-provided resource and like any other college-related activity are subject to the normal requirements of legal and ethical behavior within the college community. Thus, legitimate use of technology or data / communications network does not extend to whatever is technically possible. Although some limitations are built into computer operating systems and networks, those limitations are not the sole restrictions on what is permissible. Users must abide by all applicable restrictions, whether or not they are built into the operating system or network and whether or not they can be circumvented by technical means.

In addition to college owned and operated technology resources, this agreement includes use of personal technology equipment used on the college campus and in the college environment. Use of personal items such as cellular / digital telephones, laptop computers, PDA's and other electronic data / communications devices are subject to usage under certain terms designated by Information Services and/or the college administration. The college is not responsible for damage done to personal property while located on campus or attached to the college's data network. This includes physical damage as well as damage caused by external threats such as viruses, spyware and SPAM e-mail.

The Information Services staff are here to help with all technology needs and support on campus. We support any issues involving any campus owned computer systems or devices. We recognize that Faculty, Staff, and Students require access to campus systems from on and offsite via their personal devices. Because of the variety of hardware, software, and other alternatives, it is not feasible to provide full support for personal devices. As a courtesy, the Johnson College Information Services Team will provide the following limited support of personal devices:

- Accessing the campus wireless network.
- Configuration of remote desktop connections (terminal server access).
- Configure campus email on a device.

Any other issues with personal devices, including anything that prevents the configuration of anything in the previous list, will not be supported by Information Services staff.

Usage of personal devices on campus or when accessing the campus network from offsite, still requires adherence to the Technology Users Responsibility Agreement.

Policy

All users of technology resources must:

- Comply with all federal, Pennsylvania, and other applicable law; all generally applicable college rules and policies; and all applicable contracts and licenses.
- Use only those computing resources that they are authorized to use and use them only in the manner and to the extent authorized.
- Respect the privacy of other users and their accounts, regardless of whether those accounts are securely protected. Activities that cause "disruption" of academic or other college activities are prohibited.

- Respect the finite capacity of those resources and limit use so as not to consume an unreasonable amount of those resources or to interfere unreasonably with the activity of other users.
- Refrain from using those resources for personal commercial purposes or for personal financial gain.
- Refrain from stating or implying that they speak on behalf of the college and from using college trademarks and logos without authorization to do so.
- Ethically use technology and agree not to use any resources for the purpose of cheating academically. The use of network-based instant messaging, text messaging, or telecommunications devices in the classroom is prohibited.
- Refrain from altering, defacing or removing any college owned electronic hardware or its components. This includes the hardware and any connecting cables, parts or fixtures.
- Abide by external resource's end user and privacy agreements including but not limited to Desire2Learn, Office 365, and Wiggio (<http://wiggio.com/terms.html>).
- All college electronic technology resources are intended for college business use only. Refrain from using any college technology resources for the expression of any personal issue(s) or concern(s) of any kind. The connection of any data/communications devices to college networks is prohibited without the direct permission of the Director of Information Services or their designee. This includes laptop computers, PDA's or other network based devices physically connected to the network or a wireless connection.

Appropriate Technology Usage

Since all the Johnson College computer systems, software, e-mail and internet connections are college owned, all Johnson College policies for students and employees are in effect at all times when using Johnson College systems, even when they are accessed remotely. Any student or employee who abuses the privilege of access to Johnson College systems, technology, email or equipment may be denied further access to college systems.

Internet and e-mail access may not be used for transmitting, retrieving or storing of any communications of a defamatory, discriminatory or harassing nature or any materials that are obscene or X-rated. No messages with derogatory or inflammatory remarks about an individual's race, age, disability, religion, national origin, physical attributes, or sexual preference shall be transmitted. This includes email or internet transmitted jokes that are obscene, X-rated or depict individuals in a derogatory or inflammatory manner. This also includes any disparaging, abusive, profane, or offensive language or materials that would adversely or negatively reflect upon Johnson College or its reputation.

Illegal activities (such as piracy, gambling, extortion, blackmail, or copyright infringement) using Johnson College provided systems, equipment, internet access or technology is forbidden.

Enforcement

Violations will normally be handled through the college disciplinary procedures applicable to the relevant user. Users who violate this policy may be denied access to college technology resources. This may include a temporary suspension or access blockage to an account. In more extreme circumstances, users may be subject to other penalties and disciplinary action as described in the Johnson College Staff Information Guide or the Student Handbook. Employee discipline could be up to and including termination of employment. Student discipline could be up to or include termination from programs of study within the college. Both employee and student violations could result in notification to appropriate law enforcement authorities outside of the college.

Security and Privacy

The college employs various measures to protect the security of its technology resources and of their users' accounts. Users should be aware, however, that the college cannot guarantee such security. Users should therefore engage in "safe computing" practices by establishing appropriate access restrictions for their accounts, guarding their passwords, and changing them regularly. The sharing of passwords or logging onto any college system with another user's credentials is prohibited and subject to disciplinary action.

Users should also be aware that their uses of college technology resources are not completely private. While the college does not routinely monitor individual usage of its technology resources, the normal operation and maintenance of the technology resources require the backup and caching of data and communications, the logging of activity, the monitoring of general usage patterns, and other such activities that are necessary for the rendition of service. The college may also specifically monitor the activity and accounts of individual users of college technology resources, including individual login sessions and communications, without notice, when (a) it reasonably appears necessary to do so to protect the integrity, security, or functionality of college or other computing resources or to protect the college from liability; (b) there is reasonable cause to believe that the user has violated, or is violating, this policy; (c) an account appears to be engaged in unusual or unusually excessive activity, as indicated by the monitoring of general activity and usage patterns; or (d) it is otherwise required or permitted by law. Any such individual monitoring, other than that specified in "(a)", required by law, or necessary to respond to perceived emergency situations, must be authorized in advance by an administrator of the college.

The college, in its discretion, may disclose the results of any such general or individual monitoring, including the contents and records of individual communications, to appropriate college personnel or law enforcement agencies and may use those results in appropriate college disciplinary proceedings.

Agreement

As a user of Johnson College technology resources and as a precondition to my technology usage, I agree to all established policies and procedures related to data security, confidentiality, software copyright and computer information resource usage. I have read and understand my responsibility and agree to abide by the security procedures as stated above; detailed in the Johnson College Policy, and any that may be conditional by the software manufacturer.

Compliance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act Peer-to-Peer (P2P) File Sharing Requirements

Introduction

H.R. 4137, the Higher Education Opportunity Act (HEOA), is a reauthorization of the Higher Education Act. It includes provisions that are designed to reduce the illegal uploading and downloading of copyrighted material through peer-to-peer (P2P) file sharing. These provisions include requirements that:

- Institutions make an annual disclosure that informs students that the illegal distribution of copyrighted materials may subject them to criminal and civil penalties.
- A plan to “effectively combat the unauthorized distribution of copyrighted materials” by users of its network, including “the use of one or more technology-based deterrents”.
- A plan to “offer alternatives to illegal downloading”.

Copyright Law and Johnson College’s Policy

Copyright law provides protections to creators of works against the unauthorized duplication and distribution of the works. In exchange for these protections, the public is provided with specific rights for “Fair Use” of copyrighted works. More specifics about copyright law and fair use are available at the following sites:

- The US Copyright Office: <http://www.copyright.gov>
- The Copyright Office’s FAQ page: <http://www.copyright.gov/help/faq/>
- The Electronic Frontier Foundation fair use FAQ: <https://www.eff.org/EFA-FAQ>

Since such activity is illegal, it is of course prohibited by the general college policy, and covered by the disciplinary procedures in our student and employee handbooks. In addition, using Johnson College’s network or any other Johnson College technology resource to copy, store, and/or distribute copyright-infringing material is specifically prohibited by the Acceptable Use Policy.

Every user is responsible for his or her own compliance with the law. Using the Johnson College network does not in any way shield you from potential law enforcement actions; users who download or distribute copyrighted works may face civil or criminal penalties in addition to sanctions based on college policy.

Summary of Civil and Criminal Penalties for Violation of Federal Copyright Laws

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or "statutory" damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505.

Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense.

For more information, please see the Web site of the U.S. Copyright Office at <http://www.copyright.gov>, especially their FAQ's at <http://www.copyright.gov/help/faq>.

Plans to “Effectively Combat” the Unauthorized Distribution of Copyrighted Material

Currently, Johnson College’s firewall, Threat Management Gateway, is used to block all peer-to-peer applications identified by their application signature and/or network traffic. This device is continually monitored and updated regularly to ensure currency. If we observe continued high bandwidth consumption on the Johnson College network, we will contact such users to ensure that their bandwidth consumption is the result of legal purposes only.

Alternatives to Illegal File Sharing

Educause maintains a comprehensive list of Legal Downloading Resources. Members of the Johnson College community are encouraged to take advantage of these legitimate sources of digital content.

Reviewing Effectiveness

Compared to our peers, Johnson College receives remarkably few peer to peer file sharing takedown notices. We will continue to monitor these notices to watch for unexpected increases that would require additional measures.

Johnson College Community Code of Ethics

Johnson College, as a community dedicated to providing a quality technical education to its students, stresses the importance of living by an acceptable set of standards. We challenge our students to follow the college’s “Code of Ethics” as outlined below.

Each student should:

- 1) Show respect for fellow students.
- 2) Show respect for all college personnel.
- 3) Become familiar with college regulations.
- 4) Abide by college regulations.
- 5) Accept the responsibility of enforcing college regulations.
- 6) Show respect for college property.
- 7) Show respect for fellow students' property.
- 8) Use college facilities constructively.
- 9) Display college pride by actions on campus and in the community.
- 10) Be conscious of personal appearance and maintain an acceptable appearance.
- 11) Strengthen the college's traditions and high reputation.
- 12) Cooperate with fellow students and staff in college activities.
- 13) Be punctual at all times.
- 14) Strive to develop talents and abilities to the fullest.
- 15) Do what is right even when it is unpopular.

Off-Campus Activity

The Student Code of Conduct is in effect on and off campus; therefore, students must display behavior that reflects favorably on them, the College, and the community. Students charged with violations of state law committed off campus shall be subject to College disciplinary proceedings if the action poses a threat to the mission of the College or to the health and safety of its members. This may include an involuntary leave of absence until the case has been resolved. After legal resolution, the College may take further disciplinary action. Johnson College has a cooperative working relationship with the Scranton Police Department and nearby law enforcement jurisdictions including the Pennsylvania State Police.

Tobacco Restricted Campus

Johnson College has adopted a Tobacco Restricted Campus policy. This restriction includes the use of electronic cigarettes, personal vaporizers, and other electronic nicotine delivery systems. All faculty, staff, students, guests and visitors are expected to adhere to the policy guidelines. The use of tobacco and the other items listed above will be confined to specific “Designated Tobacco Zones” around campus. (Please note the Campus Map earlier in this document that indicates the Designated Tobacco Zones.)

The Zones in the main campus include areas near the Vet Building, Diesel Building, Woolworth Building, Weaver Building and the Professional Center. Please keep in mind that there is NOT a Designated Tobacco Zone outside each building on campus. In particular, there is NOT a Designated Tobacco Zone outside of the Moffat Student Center.

Also keep in mind that any open area is considered a Tobacco Free Zone. For example, using a tobacco product is prohibited as you walk from your car to a building on campus.

Those found in violation of the Tobacco Restricted Campus policy may be subject to general Policy Violation sanctions on campus, which can include but are not limited to: a written warning, fine, suspension from campus activities or events.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Studentsuccess@johnson.edu.

Student welfare is a primary concern. Everyone is responsible for creating a healthy community that cares for one another. One demonstration of caring involves seeking medical assistance for fellow students when lives may be in danger due to alcohol and/or drug intoxication. To seek medical assistance, please call 911.

C. Conduct That Violates the Health and/or Safety of an Individual

Respect for the rights of personal safety and individual liberties are fundamental expectations of any academic community. The following restrictions are designed to protect the health and/or safety of the individual.

1. Harassment. Includes such acts as, but is not limited to:
- Attempting or threatening to subject another person to unwanted physical contact.
 - Stalking any person by any means including by physical, electronic, written or telephonic means.

- c. Persistent, pervasive, or severe bullying behaviors such as theft or destruction of personal property, public humiliation, intimidating or threatening behaviors.
 - d. Directing obscene language or gestures at another person or group of people in a threatening manner.

Hazing can occur regardless of the person's willingness to participate.

NOTE: A person commits a hazing offense if the person engages in hazing; solicits, encourages, directs, aids or attempts to aid another engaging in hazing; or intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly permits hazing to occur.

- 3. Physical Assault. Including but not limited to:
 - a. Inflicting bodily harm upon any person.
 - b. Taking any action for the purpose of inflicting harm upon any person.
 - c. Threatened use of force upon any person.

 - a. Any intentional and uninvited sexually explicit touching or attempt or threat of such touching.
 - b. Any engagement in sexual activity with another person without their affirmative consent.
 - c. Sexual Violence including sexual battery and/or sexual coercion.

NOTE: Definition of Affirmative Consent- Affirmative consent is a knowing, voluntary, and mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance, in and of itself, does not demonstrate consent. The definition of consent does not vary based upon a participant's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression.

- Consent to any sexual act or prior consensual sexual activity between or with any party does not necessarily constitute consent to any other sexual act.
- Consent is required regardless of whether the person initiating the act is under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol.
- Consent may be initially given but withdrawn at any time.
- Consent cannot be given when a person is incapacitated, which occurs when an individual lacks the ability to knowingly choose to participate in sexual activity. Incapacitation may be caused by the lack of consciousness or being asleep, being involuntarily restrained, or if an individual otherwise cannot consent. Depending on the degree of intoxication, someone who is under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other intoxicants may be incapacitated and therefore unable to consent.

- Consent cannot be given when it is the result of any coercion, intimidation, force or threat of harm.
- When consent is withdrawn or can no longer be given, sexual activity must stop.
- When determining whether a person has the capacity to provide consent, the College will consider whether a sober, reasonable person in the same position knew or should have known that the other party could or could not consent to the sexual activity. When determining whether consent has been provided, all the circumstances of the relationship between the parties will be considered.

7. Sexual Harassment. Sexual harassment in the educational setting is a form of discrimination on the basis of sex which includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or verbal, non-verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature which denies or limits a student's ability to participate in or to receive benefits, services and opportunities in the College's programs. Conduct of a sexual nature (verbal, non-verbal, or physical), which creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment is prohibited.
8. Bias-Related Harassment. Harassment based on race, color, age, religion, or national origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or other protected characteristics is oral, written, graphic or physical conduct relating to an individual's race, color, gender identity or national origin (including an individual's ancestry, country of origin, or country of origin of the student's parents, family members, or ancestors) or other protected characteristics that is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent so as to interfere with or limit the ability of an individual to participate in or benefit from the educational institution's programs or activities. Such bias-related acts may subject the offender(s) to more serious levels of outcomes.
9. Dating Violence. Dating violence is any act of violence committed by a person who is or has been in a social relationship of a romantic or intimate nature with the victim. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the victim's statement and with consideration of the type and length of the relationship and the frequency of interaction between the persons involved in the relationship. Two people may be in a romantic or intimate relationship, regardless of whether the relationship is sexual in nature; however, neither a casual acquaintance nor ordinary fraternization between two individuals in a business or social context shall constitute a romantic or intimate relationship. This definition does not include acts covered under domestic violence.
10. Domestic Violence. Domestic violence is any violent felony or misdemeanor crime committed by a current or former spouse or intimate partner of the victim, a person sharing a child with the victim, or a person cohabitating with the victim as a spouse or intimate partner.

NOTE: Students' Bill of Rights

Johnson College is committed to providing options, support, and assistance to victims/survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking to ensure that they can continue to participate in college-wide and campus programs, activities, and employment. All victims/survivors of these crimes and violations, regardless of race, color, national origin, religion, creed, age, disability, sex, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, familial status, pregnancy, predisposing genetic characteristics, military status, domestic violence victim status, or criminal conviction, have the following rights, regardless of whether the crime or violation occurs on campus or off campus.

 - Receive resources, such as counseling and medical attention;
 - Confidentially or anonymously disclose a crime or violation;
 - Make a report to any employee and/or local law enforcement.

Student Conduct Process and Procedures

Purpose:

- Provide students with due process while informing them how to be responsible members of the Johnson College community.
- Assist the campus in maintaining an educational environment that is safe, inclusive, and respectful.
- Appropriately educate and provide outcomes to a student who violates a college policy.

Incidents- An incident takes place when a student's conduct on campus and/or at a college-related event adversely affects the individual or the community. The student conduct administrator will determine when the College will act on allegations of off-campus misconduct that also violate College policy and/or federal, state, and/or local laws.

Incident Reports- Upon receipt of an incident report, a member of the Student Success team will review the report and determine if a policy violation has occurred. Based on the report, the alleged policy violation(s), as well as, the student's conduct record, the student conduct administrator will determine the type of meeting/hearing (listed below) necessary for handling the case.

Allegation Letters- The allegation letter will outline for the student:

- A summary of the student's alleged behavior during the incident.
- The alleged policy violation(s)
- The time, location, and type of meeting/hearing.

A copy of the incident report will be provided to the student with the allegation letter.

- The allegation letter is drafted by a member of the Student Success team. A meeting will be scheduled within (2) business days after the incident, when possible.
- An electronic copy of the allegation letter is delivered to the student via the student's Johnson College email. A hard copy of the allegation letter to the student will attempt to be delivered upon request.

Meetings and Hearings- Conduct bodies will hear cases concerning alleged policy violations and determine responsibility and if applicable, appropriate outcomes.

- Educational Conference- The accused student will meet with the student conduct administrator (or designee) to discuss the incident. During the meeting, the student conduct administrator will decide the student's responsibility based on the incident report and testimony of the accused student. A signed Decision Letter will serve as an acceptance of the finding and outcome(s). If the accused student does not agree with the decision, the matter will be referred to a Determination Hearing. If the accused student fails to appear for an Educational Conference Meeting, the Student Conduct administrator will determine a decision on the student's responsibility based on the incident report.
- Determination Hearings- The accused student will meet with a hearing body (composed of 1 student and 2 faculty/staff). A member of the Student Success team will also attend the hearing as the moderator and take notes in case of an appeal. Hearings, rather than meetings are held when:
 - The accused student's allegations are of very serious misconduct (outcomes may result in a recommendation of suspension or dismissal),
 - There is a need for witness testimony to determine responsibility (witnesses will be notified of a request for their attendance when allegation letters are sent), or
 - As a result of a request by the student during an Educational Conference.

At the end of the Determination Hearing, the hearing body will decide on the student's responsibility based on the incident report and testimony of the accused student and witnesses. Additionally, the hearing body will determine appropriate outcomes if the accused student is found responsible for violating any policies. A member of the Student Success team will send an electronic copy of the decision letter to the accused student's Johnson College email. A hard copy of the decision letter to the student will attempt to be delivered upon request.

Decision Letters- The decision letter will outline for the student:

- A summary of the student's alleged behavior during the incident.
- A list of policy violation(s) with a written explanation.
- A list of assigned outcomes.

Appeals- Students may appeal the decision made by a hearing body through a Determination Hearing. The written appeal must be submitted to the student conduct administrator within (3) business days of the date of the decision letter. The Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs will consider the appeal, testimony made during the Determination Hearing, as well as the incident report. Students may appeal a decision for the following reasons only:

- Procedural Error- The Determination Hearing was not conducted fairly in that the accused student did not have a reasonable opportunity to prepare and/or present a rebuttal of the allegations.
- Unsupported Conclusion- The facts in the case were not sufficient enough to establish that a policy was violated.

- Disproportionate Outcomes- The outcome imposed was not appropriate for the violation.
- New Evidence- Relevant/Sufficient facts that were not known during the Disciplinary Hearing would alter the decision.

After reviewing the appeal, the Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs will:

- Uphold the findings and outcomes from the Determination Hearing body.
- Modify (without increasing) the finding and/or outcome from the Determination Hearing body.
- Determine if a new Determination Hearing should take place.

The Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs will send an electronic copy of the appeal decision letter to the accused student's Johnson College email. Additionally, a hard copy of the decision letter will attempt to be delivered to the student upon request.

Outcomes

The purpose of assigning outcomes to a student who violates a college policy is to:

- Educate and help develop the student to show how their behavior/choice(s) impact themselves and others.
- Hold the student responsible for their conduct.
- Support the student to make better decisions in the future.
- Repair harm to individuals and/or the community.

Each incident is different, involving many factors, and is therefore difficult to prescribe standardized outcomes for all violations. The following will be considered while determining outcomes:

- How to best support and educate the student while holding the student responsible for their decision.
- The outcome should be appropriate for the policy violated.
- If applicable, the student's conduct record.

Outcome Examples- The following are commonly assigned outcomes. In some cases, multiple outcomes may be assigned.

- Reprimand- A written warning to the student that their actions are inappropriate, and that the individual must act more responsibly in the future.
- Apology Letter
- Reflection/Research Paper
- Loss of Privileges- Denial of privileges for a designated period. These include but are not limited to possessing particular items on campus (ie. automobiles), attending events, etc.
- Restitution- Compensation for loss, damage, or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.
- Counseling- The student must attend an assessment and/or session with the Counselor by a specific date. The student is required to follow all recommendations made by the Counselor as a result of the assessment.
- Restorative Supervision- A notice to the student that their actions are serious within the College community. This outcome shall be primarily used in cases of serious or consistent policy violations. Restorative supervision shall be for a designated period and includes the probability of more severe outcomes if the student is found to be violating any College policies during the supervisory period. Any violation committed during the supervisory period will result in a review of the student's status at Johnson College.
- Deferred Suspension- A definite period of observation and review. If a student is again found responsible for any further College policy violations including failure to complete previously imposed outcomes or adhere to previously imposed conditions, the student will automatically be recommended for suspension for a minimum of one semester.

- Disciplinary Suspension- A recommendation that calls for the separation of the student from the College for a definite period, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. The Student Conduct Administrator shall act in consultation with the Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs for any cases that may result in suspension.
- Disciplinary Dismissal- A recommendation that calls for permanent separation of the student from the College. The Student Conduct Administrator shall act in consultation with the Vice President of Enrollment and Student Affairs for any cases that may result in dismissal.
- Interim Outcomes- In certain circumstances, the student conduct administrator may impose a Disciplinary suspension or other outcomes before the disciplinary meeting/hearing. The purpose of an interim sanction is to ensure the safety and well-being of members of the community or preservation of college property, or to ensure the student's own physical or emotional safety and well-being; or if the student poses a definite threat of disruption or interference with the normal operations of the College.

Johnson College has a zero-tolerance stance for violence. The minimum outcomes for Health and/or Safety of an Individual Policy violations likely to be assigned are as follows:

- Disciplinary Suspension for the remainder of the semester and (1) additional fall/spring semester.
- Before Returning- Meet with members of Academics, the student conduct administrator, and the Counselor to discuss an action plan for graduation.
- Once Returned- Deferred Suspension until graduation.
